We could try this suggestion I received...Tressa, I know you are talking with Pastor Bouie and I am not changing course - just keep in mind in case we need to and can try this as one more resort:

We want GP and the community to talk, but the attendees may not be under our control (ie advocacy groups). With a panel format, we could designate who is on it and would tell GP and Pastor. Each person provides report/overview; followed with Q&As which allows interaction, but more importantly, let's everyone hear what the concerns are. With a panel, we don't have to have all the answers; we can capture unanswered questions for follow-up and can create FAQs to share with the community at large. Just keep as a thought....in case we need one more option.
